

Courses Expected to Be Offered Spring 2022 (Incomplete and Not Guaranteed)

The following is a list of courses that the COL currently expects to offer in Spring 2022.

The list is incomplete in that we hope and expect to add more courses to it over the next few months, especially some of the experiential learning and seminar courses offered by some of our longtime adjuncts (who are likely to be able to continue to serve but who simply can't commit this far in advance).

The list is not guaranteed. Things change unexpectedly. We cannot give you any assurance that these are the courses we will offer. In all likelihood, something on this list will change. We just don't know what it is. That said, we would rather give you a forecast than nothing at all. But it is just that—a forecast.
